Camphill Special School announces event chairs

GLENMOORE, PA – March 6, 2009 Camphill Special School is pleased to announce the Chairs of its signature fundraising event, the Camphill ProAm Tennis Ball and Tennis Tournament. East Nantmeal Township residents Greg and Annie Ambrose have been named Tennis Ball Chairs and owner of Exton's Tennis Addiction Sports Club, Anthony DeCecco, is Chair of the ProAm Tennis Tournament. DeCecco, a resident of Chester Springs, also is the founder of the Camphill ProAm.

Along with twenty-six committee members from the Chester County area, the Ambroses and DeCecco are hard at work coordinating what promises to be another successful event to benefit students with intellectual and developmental disabilities at Camphill Special School.

The Tennis Ball will take place on Friday, May 8 at Chester Valley Golf Club in Malvern. Guests at the Tennis Ball will be treated to a fabulous dinner, dancing to music from The Chatterband, auctions, and a performance by Camphill Special School students. Eight mixed doubles ProAm tennis teams will compete for the coveted title of ProAm Champions the following day, Saturday, May 9 at a location yet to be announced.

Sponsorship opportunities are available by contacting Courtney Coffman at 610.469.9236 x132 or ccoffman@beaverrun.org. Tickets are $125 each or $200 per couple and includes admission to both the Tennis Ball on May 8 and ProAm Tennis Tournament on May 9. The School currently is accepting auction item donations and program advertisements.

Camphill Special School is a community and school for children and youth ages four to twenty-one with intellectual and developmental disabilities. For additional information on Camphill Special School or the 2009 Camphill ProAm visit www.camphillspecialschool.org or call 610.469.9236 x132.
