Camphill Special School receives grant from Connelly Foundation

GLENMOORE, PA – June 6, 2007

Camphill Special School in Glenmoore, PA recently was awarded a grant of $25,000 from the Connelly Foundation in West Conshohocken, PA. Camphill Special School offers children and youth with developmental disabilities age-appropriate educational and social opportunities that integrate academics, the arts, and movement, with therapies and life skills and prevocational training, all based upon a rich and varied Waldorf curriculum.

The Connelly Foundation supports and develops programs in the areas of education, health and human services, civics, and culture in the city of Philadelphia and the surrounding Delaware Valley Region. The Foundation's grant will support much needed renovations at a home for students ages eighteen through twenty-one who participate in the School's Transition Program.

The Transition Program provides additional academic, life skill, and vocational experiences for students who have completed Camphill's high school program.

Camphill Special School is a member of the Association of Waldorf Schools of North America and is recognized as an Approved Private School by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. For more information, visit www.beaverrun.org or call the School at 610.469.9236.
